To be considered and ranked amongst the U.S. News & World Report and Best Lawyers “Best Law Firms” involves a thorough evaluation process. Rankings are based on a rigorous evaluation process that includes the collection of client and lawyer evaluations, peer reviews from leading attorneys within the field, and an assessment of additional information provided by law firms as part of the formal process.

Specifically, firm clients were asked to provide feedback on firm practice groups, expertise, responsiveness, understanding of a business and its needs, cost-effectiveness, civility, and whether they would refer another client to a specific firm. Lawyers also voted on expertise, responsiveness, integrity, cost-effectiveness, if they would refer a matter to a specific firm, and whether they consider a firm a worthy competitor.

All of the quantitative and qualitative data collected were combined into an overall score for each firm, and then compared to other firms on the metropolitan and national levels for ranking purposes.
