

Diamond McCarthy's Mark A. Shank Interviewed in Of Counsel Magazine

April 23, 2019

Diamond McCarthy Senior Counsel, Mark A. Shank, was recently interviewed in Wolters Kluwer's Of Counsel: The Legal Practice and Management Report magazine.

The article remarks on Shank's expertise as an arbitrator, mediator and negotiator as well as his recent professional achievements including being honored with the Texas Bar's Dan Rugeley Price Memorial Award for his dedicated efforts to the practice of law.

Divided into four segments, the interview touches on Shank's path to becoming a lawyer and his transition into focusing on practicing labor and employment as well as arbitration. Shank additionally notes the types of work that have made a difference in his practice as well as how he builds the narrative for his practice and each case.

The interview also shines light on Shank's passion for contributing to the Dallas community as well as his thoughts on balancing the pressures and stress of a legal career by involving oneself with activities outside the legal profession.

Click here to read the full interview. Download full interview

Related Practices

- Labor & Employment
- Mediation, Alternative Dispute Resolution, and Domestic Arbitration

Related Practices

- Labor and Employment
- Alternative Dispute Resolution, US Domestic Arbitration, and Mediation