

Litigating and Judging Business Entity Governance Disputes in California

August 22, 2019

A successful litigator for nearly twenty-five years, Christopher D. Sullivan co-authors a helpful guidebook, Litigating and Judging Business Entity Governance Disputes in California. Throughout the publication, readers will find useful background information, citations to statutes and decisions, and expert insights on California business governance disputes.

Composed of contributions from twelve professionals within the legal industry, this nine-chapter publication provides tips, creative approaches and solutions for arbitrators, attorneys and judges in California. It also guides readers through various complex business matters involving management, ownership and control of California businesses, corporations, LLCs, and general and limited partnerships.
