

26th Annual

Insolvency
Conference

May 16-18
2014

Santa Barbara
California

“The Great Recession - Aftermath and the Path Forward”

Every year our team and I look forward to the CBF Conference. Not only do we have the opportunity to learn and build our insolvency skills by attending relevant panels with leading experts, but we get to socialize and network with so many of the highly regarded professionals in the community. We truly enjoy impromptu gatherings where we can catch up on cases and issues that are effecting our practice. We always come away with new information and stronger relationships.

Conference Co-Chair
HOWARD B. GROBSTEIN

P: 818-532-1020
E: hgrobstein@gtfas.com

The CBF Insolvency Conference presents attendees with the opportunity to take in the highest level and quality of programming from insolvency practitioners at the pinnacle of the profession. Every year I have taken away no fewer than four significant practice points or legal insights that I've used in cases during the following year. This Conference quite literally pays for itself with what I've learn and put to use.

Conference Co-Chair
ROBERT G. HARRIS

Keynote Speaker

Kevyn Orr has practiced law in the areas of business restructuring, financial institution regulation, and commercial litigation for three decades. Throughout his career he has demonstrated the ability to handle all aspects of complex and precedent-setting matters.

Kevyn has served as the chief government legal officer of a failed financial institution and a special master to oversee the operations of a real estate development firm. He also has assisted clients with government requests for proposals and inspector general audits.

Upon graduation from law school in 1983, Kevyn joined a Miami, Fla., law firm as a litigator and became a shareholder of that firm in 1988. In 1991, he joined the litigation department of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and shortly afterward transferred to the Resolution Trust Corporation (RTC).

Kevyn Orr

In 1994, Kevyn became the assistant general counsel for complex litigation and bankruptcy at the RTC and in that capacity he litigated and supervised numerous high-profile cases concerning various provisions of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989, as well as related federal statutes. He also supervised complex investigatory and bankruptcy matters handled by the agency. Those duties included serving as the agency's chief lawyer responsible for the agency's participation in the Whitewater investigation related to the failure of the Madison Guaranty Savings and Loan, of Little Rock, Ark.

Kevyn joined the Department of Justice in 1995 as deputy director of the Executive Office for United States Trustees. In February 2000, he became the director of the United States Trustees Program and was responsible for supervision of the program.

In 2001, Kevyn joined the Jones Day law firm where he served (prior to becoming Emergency Bankruptcy Manager for the City of Detroit) on the firm's Advisory Committee and was the Firmwide Partner for Hiring and Diversity. At Jones Day, Kevyn's responsibilities included counseling and representation of:

Chrysler LLC with regard to all aspects of its bankruptcy URS/WGI against claims by the Department of Justice for alleged FAA/FCA and related common law contract claims Health care financier National Century Financial Enterprises in its bankruptcy and asserting that company's claims in the health care provider bankruptcies of PhyAmerica Corporation and DCHC/Greater Southeast Hospital Laidlaw Corporation in its defense of a $1 billion claim by the purchaser of its environmental cleanup division Investment banks and advisors in bankruptcy matters, and sellers and bidders in bankruptcy-related auctions.

Kevyn is a member of the bars of Florida and the District of Columbia, the American Bar Association, and the American Bankruptcy Institute, where he serves on the institute's law review advisory board. He holds a bachelor of arts degree in political science (1979) and a law degree (1983) from the University of Michigan.
